

Turn losers into winners – Discover the 5 keys to writing great proposals!

“Rats! That’s the 3rd job this month where they want a detailed proposal. It seems like more and more of the jobs I go after want a fancy written proposal. Don’t they know I’m a web designer not a pencil pusher? There are lots of schools to teach me web design but not one that shows me how to write proposals that will win more business. And lately I am losing way too many that I should have won!”

Have you had that conversation with yourself? You’re not alone. A recent survey of independent shops by Website Magazine found that around 90% of jobs require a detailed proposal.

It’s a fact. If you want to grow your business you have to write better proposals. But how?
